Research indicates that a successful chapter

1. uses its chapter survey information when making membership decisions;
2. invites prospective members to attend meetings;
3. conducts orientation of prospective members and reorientation of members;
4. keeps in touch with members who miss meetings;
5. maintains an up-to-date file of chapter members' biographical data;
6. reports the death of each member (Form 6);
7. Conducts tributes and memorials for deceased members
